THE TOBACCO TRUST

Has Mr. Willson Employed As Its Attorney.

CANDIDATE IS TAKEN TO TASK

Startling Disclosure Regarding the Republican Candidate for Governor.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 12.—Franklin county Democrats had a big rally to-day at Bailey's mill, in the western part of the county. The meeting was an all-day affair, with a burgoon and several speeches. The Frankfort Military Band furnished the music and the principal speakers were Secretary of State Harry V. McChesney and Appellate Court Clerk J. Morgan Chin, Short speeches were made by a number of local Democratic leaders.

Mr. Chinn aroused the farmers by charging that Augustus E. Willson, the Republican gubernatorial nominee, is the legal representative of the American Tobacco Company, the tobacco trust in Kentucky, having represented that corporation in its litigation before the Court of Appeals. In arraignment Willson for his connection with the trust. Mr. Chinn in part spoke as follows:

ATTORNEY OF TOBACCO TRUST.

It will be good news, no doubt, to the tobacco raisers in Kentucky, who are at this particular time engaged in a death struggle with the American Tobacco Company, commonly known as the Tobacco Trust, to know that that distinguished statesman, Mr. Augustus E. Willson, whom the Republicans, I think in a fit of mental aberration, have seen fit to nominate as their candidate for Governor of Kentucky, is at this very instant, and has been for years, the hired, paid and employed attorney for the American Tobacco Company, as evidenced by the records in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

There was filed in that office on December 6, 1906, the transcript of the record in the case of the Cincinnati, Pittsburg, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad Company against the American Tobacco Company, which was an appeal from the Jefferson Circuit Court, involving the sum of $1,125.90 that the American Tobacco Company recovered from this railroad company in the lower court for the loss by fire of a car of tobacco that they had consigned to Chicago over the lines of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad Company, and while the car was in the yards of the railroad company in the city of Louisville, the tobacco, the property of the American Tobacco Company, was destroyed in some way by fire.

HISTORY OF SUIT.

The American Tobacco Company, through their attorney, Augustus E. Willson, instituted suit in the Jefferson Circuit Court, Common Pleas, Second division, and filed his petition for the said tobacco company on the 18th day of April, 1905, and in June, 1906, he was awarded a judgment against the railroad company for the amount claimed, $1,125.90, from which judgment there was prosecuted by the railroad company an appeal from the Jefferson Circuit Court to the Court of Appeals, where Mr. Willson again appears of record as attorney for the American Tobacco Company, and filed his brief for that company (the appellee), on April 30, 1907. The judgment of the lower court was affirmed by the Court of Appeals on October 10, 1907.

We do not mean to deny Mr. Willson the right to represent the Tobacco Trust as an attorney, as that is his privilege, but it is also the privilege of the people of Kentucky, who are of the opinion that he would not make a good, fair and impartial Governor on account of his employment by the Tobacco Trust, to vote against him at the ensuing election, and if I know anything about the temperance of this people, you will most assuredly repudiate this man who is tied to the body of a living death, and willing to scrape the clothes from the backs of your children by upholding the hands of this trust that is now in a criminal combination in restraint of trade, in violation of your rights, and in violation of the laws of the State and nation, and who, by reason of this employment, regards the Society of Equity as an organized mob, and its members as marauders.

ABSOLUTELY FALSE

Such Were the Charges of Candidate Willson

REGARDING BRYAN'S SPEECHES

Editor Woodson and Chairman Hines Come Out in Emphatic Statements.

Mr. Urey Woodson, editor of the Owensboro Messenger and National Committeeman from Kentucky, has the following in last Thursday's issue of his paper:

The editor of the Messenger was necessarily absent when Mr. Willson, the Republican candidate for Governor, spoke in Owensboro on Tuesday. He had hoped to listen to Mr. Willson's speech himself, because of the manifest evidence of equivocation in the gentleman's speeches as reported from other points, and regrets he was unable to do so.

Mr. Willson has heretofore borne the reputation of an honorable gentleman. It is hard to believe a man who is a nominee of a great political party for governor of the great State of Kentucky would be guilty of a direct, deliberate, wanton falsehood, but the evidence is indisputable that Mr. Willson said in his Owensboro speech that Mr. Bryan had come to Kentucky upon an agreement that he should be paid $500 per day for his services and this amount would be paid him before he left the State if, in fact, it had not been paid before he left Nebraska.

Mr. Bidell, correspondent of the Republican State organ, the Louisville Herald says:

"He remarked that he supposed Mr. Bryan was just as interesting to the people of Owensboro at $500 per day as when he was a candidate. He explained though, that the Nebraska had charged just the same for his services at that time. The fact that Mr. Bryan came all the way from Nebraska to tell Kentucky how it should handle its local affairs he characterized as ridiculous, particularly the Nebraska's mission to prevent Kentucky from going Republican."

"If there hadn't been a big retainer in cash his desire to keep Kentucky from going Republican would simply have smoldered on the hearth of his ambition," he declared. That Mr. Bryan didn't owe Beckham and Hager anything, Mr. Willson declared to be true, and he didn't blame the Nebraska for charging them for his assistance."

This was not only false—utterly without foundation—it was dirty and disreputable.

The day of campaigning of this style long ago passed in Kentucky. No responsible public speaker can afford to make unsupported statements concerning any man or any matter. He must at least have some semblance of truth for his utterances. But in making this statement Mr. Willson concocted and uttered that which he knew to be absolutely false. He had not the slightest ground for the statement and a man who will make such a misrepresentation cannot be honest and should not be trusted in any position of public responsibility.

CHAIRMAN HINES' EMPHATIC LETTER.

In an open letter, Judge Henry B. Hines, chairman of the Democratic State Campaign Committee, has characterized as false the statement made by Augustus E. Willson, Republican nominee for Governor, in Owensboro, that William Jennings Bryan was paid for his two days' campaigning tour in Kentucky. Judge Hines uses strong language in his denial of the statement, and says that the Democrats of Kentucky will resent the statement of the Republican nominee for Governor at the polls in November. The letter of Judge Hines follows:

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 10, 1907.—Augustus E. Willson's statement at Owensboro that William J. Bryan was paid money by the Kentucky Democrats to come to Kentucky to speak in behalf of the Democratic State ticket was not only untrue and without the slightest semblance of truth, but was maliciously false and unbecoming for one who seeks to be

Governor of Kentucky, to say about one of the nation's most distinguished and foremost men. Mr. Willson knew his statement was false, for he could have had no excuse, reason or fact to support his statement. As chairman of the Democratic State Campaign Committee made the arrangements for Mr. Bryan to come to Kentucky. He was not paid a cent for his speeches, his own pocket. Mr. Willson's charge will be resented by Kentucky Democrats at the polls in November.

HENRY B. HINES.

FRIEDLAND.

Oct. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bilbrey, who have been visiting Mrs. Bilbrey's mother and other relatives in this community for the past three weeks, left for their home in Oklahoma last Sunday night.

The dark winged angel of death visited our community on the 6th inst., and claimed Mrs. Mary E. Hoover, wife of George Hoover, and daughter of Dr. A. R. Byers. She was buried in the Shilo burying grounds on the 8th. A large crowd of friends and relatives mourn her demise.

Bro. Horn filled his regular appointment at Shilo church last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. J. H. Wilson, of this place, has purchased the Frank Wade farm and moved to same.

We have had big frosts in this section that damaged a lot of corn and some tobacco.

I will open up a new meat shop on Union street, next door to Sam Riley's grocery store, tomorrow (Thursday) and will keep on hand a full supply of fresh and cured meats. First-class meat and prices lower than the people of Hartford have lately been used to. Steak 10c a pound, roast, 6c to 8c, and other meat in proportion. Give me a call.

CHARLIE COLLINS.

Bean's Place of Pleasure.

Dr. L. B. Bean has finished repairs on his bowling alley, moving the track further in, thus giving more room for spectators, and with new balls and pins, it is now one of the best equipped alleys in the country. He has had an exceptionally fine lot of films lately for his electric theater and moving picture show. No finer scenes are shown in any city than these. The billiard and pool room adjoining is a favorite resort. The skating season is now open and the theater is turned into a skating rink every Friday night. All the amusements given at the Electric Theater are well patronized, and it is a place of pleasure that would be a credit to any town. In fact, many towns larger than Hartford do not enjoy such splendid amusements.

For Chronic Diarrhoea.

"While in the army in 1863 I was taken with chronic diarrhoea," says George M. Felton of South Gibson, Pa., "I have since tried many remedies but without any permanent relief until Mr. A. W. Miles of this place, persuaded me to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, one bottle of which stopped it at once." For sale by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

UNUSUAL INTEREST

To Friends of Education In Kentucky

IS ELECTION NEAR AT HAND

School Teachers Especially Interested in Matters Affecting Them.

The coming election is fraught with unusual interest and importance to the friends of education in Kentucky, especially those who are engaged from day to day in the public schools, in the noblest work that human minds have been entrusted with. Not at any time in the history of the State of Kentucky has there been such a wide-spread sentiment among the people in favor of education, and keeping the schools of Kentucky abreast with the best thought of the best States of the Union. Never has a political party in any State given such prompt and satisfactory response to that sentiment as has the Democratic party of the State of Kentucky. Through the passage of several laws looking to the advancement of the cause of education and to the elevation of that great profession, teaching, the Democratic party demonstrates its belief that the future growth and development of this great Commonwealth depends largely upon the education and training of the youth in the public schools. Judge Hager, the Democratic candidate for Governor, said in the opening speech of his campaign, "Hand in hand with the development of our State must go the education of our sons and daughters." There is no single set of men and women united in a single purpose who can or do render to the State better or greater service than do the self-sacrificing teachers of our common schools.

While the true teacher will not allow politics to invade his school room, nor enter in any degree whatever in his school work, outside the school room he should make his convictions felt, especially in matters pertaining to education and economics, and to the policy being pursued by the officials and lawmakers of his State. He should not hesitate to make his position clear, for he or she is a leader of thought in the community. The teacher owes it to that community to be conversant with all that is going on in a public way.

Hartford Business Institute.

"Can you send us a bookkeeper? can you send us a stenographer?" are questions that come to us almost daily. It is no longer a question of seeking positions for our graduates. Great advantage of attending a small school over a large one is clearly manifested when our graduates fill positions that graduates from large schools cannot fill. We are not overcrowded and can give our students all the instruction they need. We find the weak points in their general education and build them up. This is almost impossible in a large school. Send for catalogue. Address all communications to

Notice to our Customers

We are pleased to announce that Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung troubles is not affected by the National Pure Food and Drug law as it contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, and we recommend it as a safe remedy for children and adults. J. H. Williams, Hartford.

Exonerated.

Concerning alleged charges against Rev. W. Fred Long, formerly a resident of this county but now General Secretary of the Arkansas Sunday School Association, stationed at Little Rock, the Arkansas Gazette says: "The Executive Committee of Sunday school Work in the State of Arkansas, after a careful investigation, has wholly exonerated Rev. W. Fred Long from the charges to which publicity was given in the public prints as a result of the trial at Dyersburg, Tenn., of a suit in which Mr. Long was seeking to gain custody of a son by a former marriage. Mr. Long is the field worker of the Sunday School organization in this State, and the thousands of men and women who are interested in him as the representative of this important work should know the result of the investigation that has just been held."

The following is the exonerative clause of the report of the committee appointed to investigate his case: "With all the facts of the investigation of the matters involved in the statements of the press, the following resolution was heartily and unanimously passed:

"That after listening to a carefully prepared report of the investigation of the charges made against Rev. W. Fred Long, as to the alleged cruelty to his unfortunately afflicted wife by a former marriage, we do hereby wholly exonerate him, the allegations have been found false. Rev. J. S. Edensburn, Chm., Rev. Ben Cox, Rev. M. M. Smith, Rev. J. A. Ganther, D. W. Richey, A. Frichmann, A. H. Carter, W. D. Young, J. G. Pattillo, B. W. Green, H. T. Caldwell, H. G. Pugh, C. E. Taylor.
